Article on Christmas

Christmas is observed on 25th of December marking birth of Jesus Christ. It is a festival that is all about sharing gifts, joy and happiness. The word 'Christmas' comes from the old english phrase 'Cristes Maesse', meaning 'mass of Christ'. On this occasion, an evergreen fir tree is used as an X-mas tree. A X-mas tree is decorated with balls, lights, candy canes etc.

MAKAR SAKRANTI

BY - HRIDEY MAGGU

The word Makar Sankranti derives from two words Makar and Sankranti. Makar means Capricorn and Sankranti means transition, which makes Makar Sankranti means the transition of the sun in the Capricorn (Zodiac sign). In addition, this occasion is a very sacred and auspicious occasion according to Hinduism and they celebrate it as a festival.

The shift of sun into Capricorn is of divine importance and we Indian's believe that taking a dip in the holy river Ganga washes away all your sins and make you soul pure and blessed. In addition, it signifies the increase of spiritual light and reduction of materialized darkness. From the scientific point of view, from Makar Sankranti, the days become longer, and the nights become shorter.

Furthermore, it is also a belief that taking a dip in the holy 'Triveni Sangam' (The point where Three holy Rivers met namely Ganga, Yamuna, and the Brahmaputra) at Prayagraj on Makar Sankranti during the time of 'Kumbh Mela' has great importance in the religion. At this time if you take a holy dip in the river then all your sins and obstacle in life will wash away with the flow of the river.

It's a festival of togetherness and delicacies. The main cuisine of this festival is a dish made of Til and jaggery that add sparks to the festival. Kite flying is also a great part of the festival during the day the whole family enjoys kite flying and at that time the sky is filled with a lot of colorful and different design kites.

BASANT PANCHAMI

BY – OJASVI RAWAT

Basant Panchami (also known as Vasant Panchami) is one of the major Hindu festivals. It marks the arrival of the spring or the Basant season. The arrival of the spring season always brings joy on faces. Basant Panchami is celebrated across the nation for the arrival of the spring season and the festival is dedicated to Goddess Sarasate.

In northern India, Basant Panchami is celebrated as Saraswati Pooja. The fest is here dedicated to Goddess Saraswati, the goddess of knowledge, language, music, arts, and power of longing. People wear yellow clothes as a symbolic representation of mustard flowers. It is the time when mustard farms are bloomed with yellow flowers. Basant Panchami is made up of two words Basant and Panchami.

It refers to the fifth day of the spring season. Educational Institutions celebrate the fest with zeal.

On the day of Basant Panchami, people wear clothes in hues of yellow and eat mouth-watering traditional delicacies like Khichdi, Boondi Ke Ladoo and Kesari Halwa.

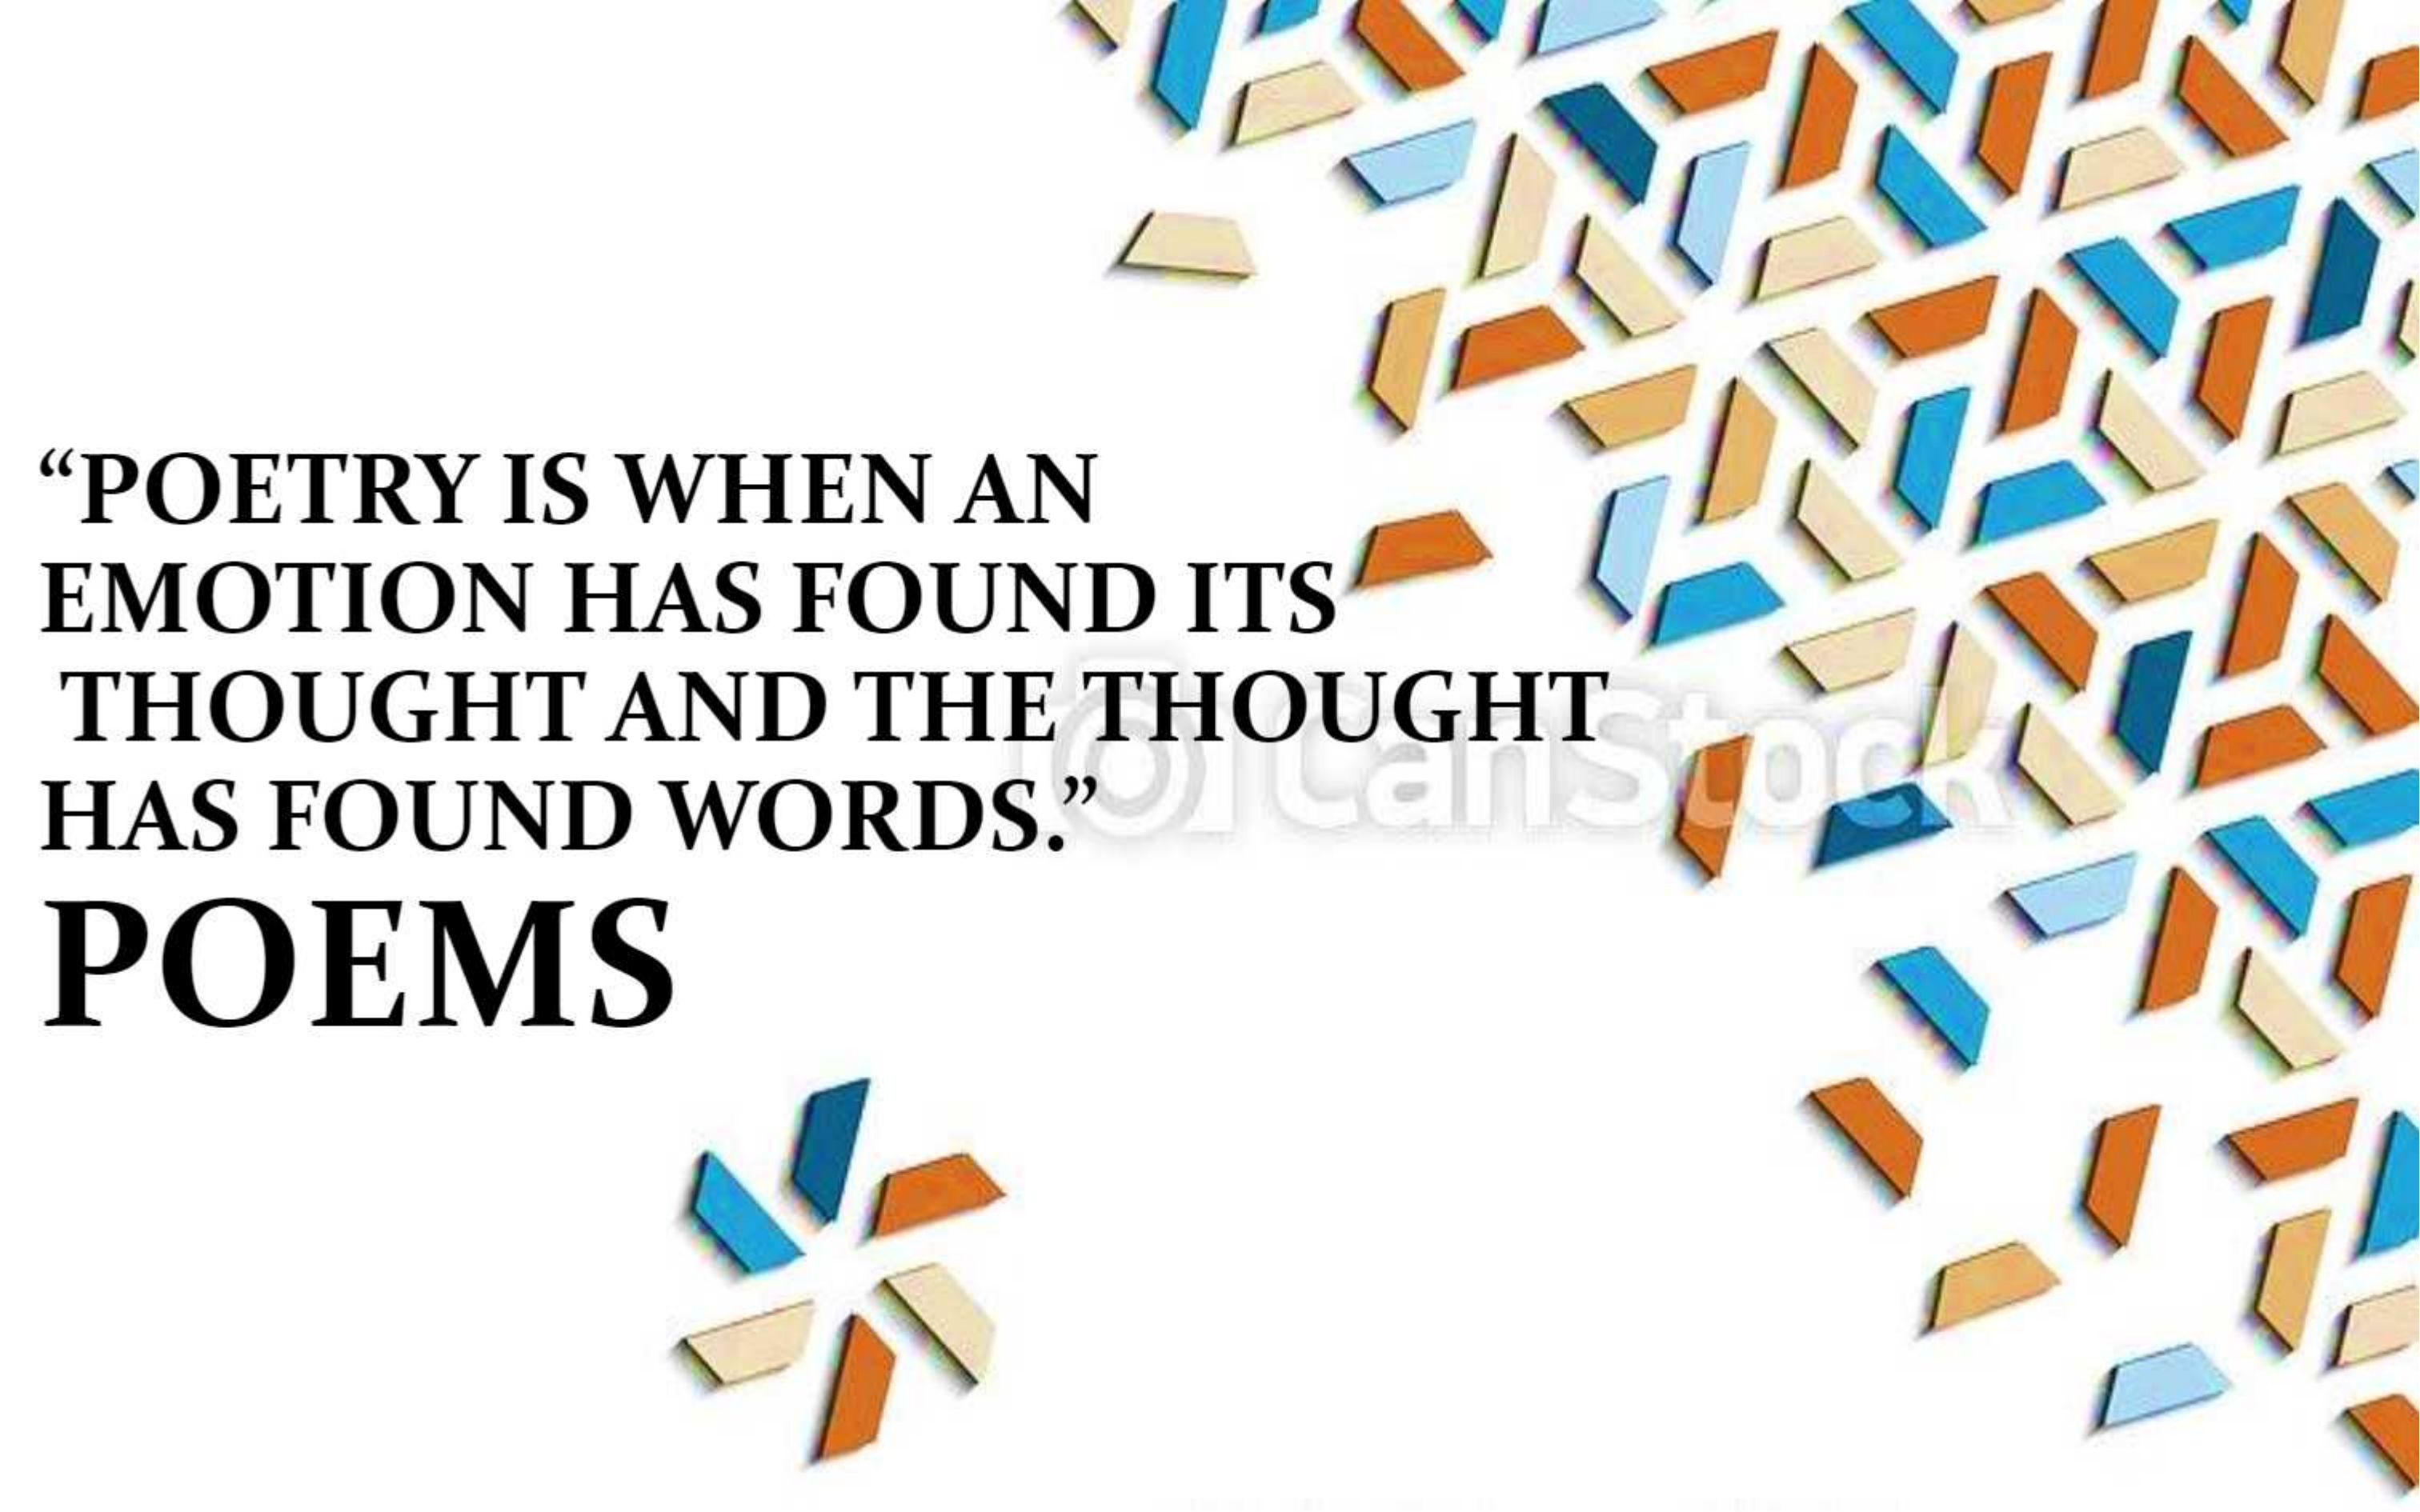

With Basant Panchami, it is believed that spring starts, a good time for crops to harvest. Since India is predominantly an agricultural country, this festival holds quite an important place in the hearts of Indian people.

REPUBLIC DAY

BY - SVASTIK RANA

Republic Day is considered as a national festival and celebrated every year on the 26th of January. It is an important day for the country's citizens because we got our Constitution on this day. On the 29th of August, a constituent assembly was formed, and it was appointed with the duty of forming the Constitution for the country. Dr. B.R. Ambedkar was appointed as the chairperson for this committee. It took the constituent assembly two years, eleven months, and eighteen days to form the Constitution. In January 1950, the Constitution's handwritten copies were signed by the members of the constituent assembly. After two days, on the 26th of January, 1950, it was declared as Republic Day. There is a lot of historical importance related to this day. Poorna Swaraj was announced in the country on this day in 1930. It was the same day that Jawaharlal Nehru was appointed as the President of the Indian National Congress. Even though the INC declared Independence Day in 1930, India for Independence from the British after 17 years, on the 15th of August, 1947, therefore, the 15th of August Republic Day is marked with a lot of happiness and patriotism for the country.

REPUBLIC DAY

Unflur the tricolor flag, Indians!
And host it high upon the mast.
And let it move in the freedom's wind,
And make the country, Indians, proud!

Salute the Indian flag, Indians!
And sing the national song of freedom's love.

Remember how freedom was won,
By Fighter's struggles.

Pray for the lives lost in the fight.
And emulate their examples.
Learn to be patriotic more,
And do your duty with fervor.

Let's foster live, peace, and harmony,
Let's make the country better!
Let's unite against terrorism,
Let's make India a better country,
Once again.

GOD, THE GREAT CREATOR

A crisp, cool autumn
evening,
Stars fill the night up high.
God, the great creator,
Decking out the sky.
A garden lit by the moonlight,
A rose kissed by His hand.
The beauty He created,
Even the smallest pieces of sand.

Petals of the roses
Glisten in the night.
The Master of creation,
His colors are pure delight.
From void He created
beauty,
From dark He created light.
The Master of creation,
And to man He gave them
life.

BOOK NAME:- Nighttime (Too scared to sleep)

AUTHOR:- Todd Strasser

BOOK TALK

The seven short stories in this collection provide plenty of frights. Mysterious video games, phantom text messages and spooky babysitters are just the beginning. Better leave the lights on? The scares start when... NIGHTTIME FALLS!!!

BOOK REVIEW

This book is about a boy who meets a spooky babysitter and get scared by her mischievous behavior. I liked that Billy, the boy, cared for his sister. I wish that Billy could understand babysitter's intentions earlier. One thing I didn't like was that the babysitter was of a cruel heart. I think that one who likes detective stories will like this book.

READING RESPONSE

Before reading this book, I used to think that detective stories are the most boring stories. But after reading this book, I realized that detective stories with a spooky touch are fascinating. It was really a fun time reading this book and I enjoyed the spooky stories of this book as they gave me goosebumps and left me thinking for a long while.

The foolish thief

One day, a rich merchant went to Birbal and complained to him that his house was robbed. He also told him that he suspects one of his servants to have robbed the house.

Birbal went to the merchant's house, rounded up all the servants and asked them who robbed the house.

As expected, the robber did not come forward to confess his crime. Birbal had come up with a way to find the culprit.

Birbal then handed a stick to each servant and told them that the robber's stick will grow 2 inches longer the next morning. That way, they will be able to identify who robbed the merchant.

The next morning, Birbal asked the servants for the sticks and pointed out the culprit to the merchant. The robber had reduced the length of the stick by 2 inches anticipating the stick to grow by the next morning. That is how Birbal figured who the robber was.

Moral:

You can always find a way out if you think at ease.

Students of the month

December :

Advay is an enthusiastic learner who has the ability to thrive in tough situations . He is innovative and tries to develop unique ideas during brains storming sessions. His ability to find new ways to accomplish projects and incorporate creativity into his work is something I value in my classroom. I would like to see him work more respectfully in group settings.

Hansika is an extremely responsible and well - organised member of my class. She stays on task, organises her time in a sensible manner and always meets deadlines. It is obvious that she completes her work in an effective and efficient manner.

Her ability to collaborate in group settings and commitment to submit her assignments on time is impressive. I would appreciate her involvement in the public speaking activities as well.

February:

Himanshi is a great listener. She is open to learning and hearing methods to improve herself in academics. She follows directions and works hard to achieve her goals. However, she can work more on self confidence. I take pride to have her in my class.

Shivika is an ideal student who shows respect for her teachers as well as peers. Her disposition and manners always impress me. She has a willingness to learn and improve. I would like her to show more participation in activities involving public speaking. It is my pleasure to have her in my class.
