Happy Diwali

Diwali is a Hindu festival celebrated every year as a festival of lights. It is very significant festival for the people of Hindu religion. Everyone becomes very happy on the occurrence of this festival and celebrates with lots of preparations. Diwali is a five days long festival begins from Dhanteras and ends at Bhai dooj. It falls every year on fifteenth day of the Kartik month.

People start cleaning their houses few days before the main date of Diwali such as white washing, dusting, painting, etc. Houses get decorated using real or artificial flowers and other decorative materials. Everywhere looks very dazzling because of the lighting small earthen lamps and electric bulbs. It is considered that Goddess Lakshmi makes a visit to each houses in the night of Diwali that's why everyone lights their houses to welcome the Goddess. In return, Goddess gives her blessings to her devotees for healthy and prosperous life. At this day, everyone performs puja of Goddess Lakshmi and God Ganesh and then distributes gifts and sweets to their friends, neighbors and relatives.

Happy Children's Day

Children's Day is celebrated every year for celebrating the birth and anniversary of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and celebrating the youth of our country who are the future of our nation, according to Nehru Ji. He loved the children of our country, and children used to call him "Chacha Nehru" with adoration.

BHAI DOOJ

There are many festivals we celebrate every year and all of them have some mythological beliefs. Similarly, Bhai Dooj also has some historical importance. As per the Hindu almanac, it is auspicious for brothers to have tilak from their sisters this day. Every year we celebrate this occasion on the 2nd day of Diwali. Bhai Dooj is also known as Bhai Tika, Bhaubeej, Bhai Phonta, Bhai Tilak, in different parts of the world. All of them are celebrated on the same day with the same cultural beliefs. Sisters especially wait for this day because they get beautiful gifts in return. Sisters keep fast for their brothers and pray for them.

On this day Lord Krishna visited his sister Subhadra after killing the demon Narkasura. His sister was very happy and she applied tilak and served very delicious food. From that day people started celebrating this auspicious day as Bhai Tilak or Bhai Dooj

RUGS

A Rug is a textile floor covering typically consisting of an upper layer of pile attached to a backing. The pile was traditionally made from wool, but since the 20th century, synthetic fibers such as polypropylene, nylon or polyester are often used, as these fibers are less expensive than wool. The pile usually consists of twisted tufts that are typically heat-treated to maintain their structure. The term carpet is often used in a similar context to the term rug, but rugs are typically considered to be smaller than a room and not attached to the floor.

World War I

World War I (or the First World War, often abbreviated as WWI or WW1) was a global war originating in Europe that lasted from 28 July 1914 to 11 November 1918. Contemporaneously known as the Great War or "the war to end all wars", it led to the mobilisation of more than 70 million military personnel, including 60 million Europeans, making it one of the largest wars in history. It is also one of the deadliest conflicts in history, with an estimated 9 million combatant deaths and 13 million civilian deaths as a direct result of the war, while resulting genocides and the related 1918 Spanish flu pandemic caused another 17–100 million deaths worldwide, including an estimated 2.64 million Spanish flu deaths in Europe and as many as 675,000 Spanish flu deaths in the United States

Poem:

THE CHOCOLAND Selfwritten by Hazel Dhawan

Every time I sleep, I dream
Dream of a carnival
With shops of ice cream

Tiny choco-huts
Caramel toffee gates
Toppings of nuts
And all around chocolates

Oh God! May my dream come true
And with me i'll also take you

A choco carnival free for us
For its tour we'll take a bus

What's the matter to imagine
Even I know it won't happen....

Happy Children's day!!!

Every year on November 14th we celebrate children's day on the occasion of the Jawaharlal Nehru birthday. On this day fun will take place in every school. Many events, programs will be conducted on this day.

But how many children know why we celebrate children's day, it is not the day of distributing chocolates, listening to Children's day speeches, participating in cultural activities or prize distribution. Then for what this day is really meant for?

This Bal diwas is the day to remember that freedom is the right of the children. Kids are the one of the beautiful creation on the earth. We can find purity in the every child smile. Their hearts are home for innocence, cuteness. They don't know what a mistake is; they don't know how the stress will be. They are just aware of math problem but not life problem.

"Things I learnt during Corona"

What seemed impossible has been achieved by a virus. When was the last time you felt so connected to rest of the world? Never were all of humanity's concerns so aligned! For once, the world is thinking the same thoughts, sharing the same fears and battling the same enemy. We are all reaching for the same medicines and protective gear, and standing in queues for food, fearful for the next meal. All nations are collectively rocketing high on the corona graph, and deep-diving together dizzily on the economic graph.

Such synchronization would have been impossible to achieve ever! And yet today impossible is the new possible. Nobody is stronger than the other — the most powerful have fallen hardest to their knees. What the might of powerful nations, fear of a thousand armies, or the wisdom of a million saints could not have achieved, has been managed by a miniscule virus!

Lessons we must learn from the pandemic!

Appreciate life more — learn to value the small things — talking to family and friends, something we are all doing now, but often gets neglected in everyday life.

- Every cloud has a silver lining — we are getting a lot of time to ourselves. Use that time as best as you can.

Take pleasure in just relaxing into yourself — sometimes by just doing nothing. Take time out to cultivate hobbies, interests and passions.

- The only things that matter ultimately are good health and the closeness of loved ones!

- Think of the worst that can happen and plan for it.

- We are all one — and an individualistic point of view is not going to work. The rich are the same as the poor, the Europeans are the same as the Indians, the government is the same as the voters, the rulers are the same as the Opposition...we cannot overcome this pandemic unless we include everyone and watch out for each other.

- As individuals, we should be aware that this is the experience of a life-time, totally unique when we are all sailing the same boat — Even the two World Wars never brought the world to a halt like this.

14 November - Children's Day -

In the race called life, we end up losing our hearts & end up wearing masks.. The children's day reminds us of taking off our masks and finding our hearts..

Children's Day

Children's Day is celebrated every year on 14th November. Our country's first Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru was born on this date. He was very fond of children.

His love for children was so much that after his death, 14th November was declared as Children's Day. All the schools and colleges celebrate this day very enthusiastically. Our school also celebrates this day by organizing different events including quiz, races, different games and many more things that are organized. Our school shows us a movie in our auditorium. Every year some children are invited from an orphanage or any government school to my school. They also play different games with us. This gesture also makes them feel happy. We also sometimes enact in our class. Our principal madam also organized a seminar in which she gave a motivational speech to all the children. Some shows are also organized like where teachers show different types of art and we all also dance and sing together. In last our class teachers also distribute gifts or chocolates to us.

This year Diwali and Children's Day are on the same day. Our school will be organizing Children's Day on online platform. I am very excited for this year's celebration.

"Virtual Children's Day Celebration" by - Nahve

Children's Day is celebrated all over the world on the occasion of Jawaharlal Nehru's birth anniversary .. This time it was celebrated on 14th of November. Due to Covid - 19 circumstances our school celebrated a virtual children's day celebration. We were told that there will be online classes as usual but on children's day a surprising gift arrived ..suddenly a message passed on that instead of the online classes we would be having a virtual children's day celebration from 10 am to 2 pm.. Usually we see teacher's performing activities on children's day.. but we innocent children imagined what could happen a night after..Now what could happen we couldn't sleep the night before .. not just because of children's day but because of DIWALI too.. The same day two big festivals arrived.. The night after , when we woke up full of excitement , setting our laptops was the first job to fulfill.. We saw movies full of joy , talked to our teachers , seeked their blessings and enjoyed a lot.. This children's Day of 2020 is unforgettable..

Haryana - A state that has transcended on a journey and preserved the best of both worlds - the footprints of the bygone era and futuristic vision.

Haryana represents the face of modern India. The one which is heralding the future yet prides itself of being rooted in its magnificent culture.

History of Haryana Day

In April 1966, the Indian government set up the Shah Commission to review the existing state of Punjab and determine the boundaries of the new state of Haryana by considering the languages spoken by the local people. The commission delivered its recommendations at the end of May 1966 and Haryana state was created on November 1st 1966. The major change from the commission's report was that instead of splitting Chandigarh, the state capital of Punjab, it would instead become a union territory serving as the capital of Punjab and Haryana.

The name Haryana means 'the land of God'. In Sanskrit, Hari means God and Ayana is home.

In terms of area, Haryana is the 21st largest state out of 29, however it has the third-highest per capita income in India and is one of the most economically developed regions in South Asia.

ARTICLE on " DIWALI "

Diwali or DEEPAWALI is a festival of lights and one of the major festival celebrated by not only Hindus but by all the Indians. The festival usually lasts for five days. Diwali is the most popular festival which symbolises the victory of light over darkness, good over evil and knowledge over ignorance. This festival marks the return of Lord Rama to Ayodhya with Mata Sita and his brother Lakshmana after defeating Ravana and serving fourteen years of exile. In the lead up to Diwali, people clean their houses and workplaces and decorate them with lights and diyas. During Diwali people wear new clothes and illuminate their homes with diyas and make rangoli. People also worship the goddess of wealth and prosperity "Lakshmi". Celebrants light fireworks and exchange gifts.

The festival is generally celebrated 20 days after Dussehra. The first day of Diwali is marked with Dhanteras. The second day people celebrate Naraka Chaturdashi . The third day people worship goddess Lakshmi and the day marks the darkest night of the traditional month. In some parts the day after Lakshmi puja is marked with the Govardhan puja . And on the last day some Hindu communities celebrate Bhai Dooj which is dedicated to the bond between sister and brother while the craftsmen mark this day as Vishkarma puja. Diwali is the best occasion to spread happiness and joy and to change your bad habits to good.

Never Give Up

A tree stands alone on the precipice,
Its finger dug deep in the sand.
Although time and the eats at its wind,
It proudly defiantly stands.

Its branches still reaching for the heaven,
Its roots bare and washing away.
To all others its fate has been clearly seen,
Yet it stands, more determined each day.

One more day it gives the shade to the weary,
One more day it replaces our air.
One more day it is given to fulfil the plan,
Of the almighty father up there.

We can learn from this proud little sapling,
When we look deep into our own cup.
When the things of this world seem to wear us away,
We can bend but must never give up.

CONFIDENCE

During our normal school days, I was doing well in my studies. I won many medals, cash prizes and trophies. I made plans to do better in my seventh class. But as our last session ended there was a huge increase in corona cases and it led to a nationwide lockdown. Our new session started late with online classes and it was not as interactive as learning in school and we had to face a lot of problems. I suddenly went into depression and lost my confidence that how I will cope up with my studies after the lockdown and thought that all my progress for seventh class will be stopped. But my parents told me that we have to deal with problems with confidence and find solutions to tackle them. I felt that they were correct and I started gaining confidence upon myself that I worked according to their advice and I was able to do so well that I even did maths and science for further classes. After a few days online tests started in our school and I performed well in them. I participated in science quiz organized in our school after preparing hard for it and I got the first prize. This boosted my confidence even more. In this way I learnt how we can do better in problems by maintaining confidence. This was also a big lesson for rest of my life about dealing confidently with problems.

From The Poet...

This poem is something which would remain very close to my heart throughout my personhood....

There were always feelings which could not be described in words but the lockdown was a medium for me to introspect and to realize that its not only me who is struck with these feelings which cannot be expressed and also that these unknown feelings are natural and hence I took the most prettily , naturally coloured shades to help me to express my and many other's mindset(which I hoped you liked and could connect with).

Being able to connect with everyone of you as a sheer 12 year old would be a great milestone for me

Hoping that you liked my way of expressing ,I end this series here.

Stay tuned..this is just a stop , this journey is a long one .

Kadha Prashad

Ingredients

- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 4 cups water
- 1/2 cup ghee

How to Make

- Melt the ghee add the whole wheat flour and stir fry over high heat to begin with, lowering the heat when you feel it may scotch.
- At the same time, place the water and the sugar in another pan to dissolve the sugar and keep on simmer till required.
- While you stir fry, the mixture will first look a little pasty, and as you continue it tends to collect together in patches.
- When it has been fried enough, the base of the pan gets a bit of a glossy look, and the flour does not stick together as much.
- Add the sugar solution stirring all the time and bring to a boil, then simmer till the liquid is absorbed.
- And the halwa is ready to serve!!
